The Observer.

A striking feature of the recent elections in England has been the remarkable increase in the number of the Labor members in the new House of Commons. Many of these may be counted upon to vote with the liberal majority on most measures of importance. A considerable number of the Laborites, however, draw a salary from a Labor fund, and in return are bound not to vote upon any measure except those in which the Labor party is directly interested. Under the law, members of the British Parliament serve without compensation from the public treasury; hence not many men of the Labor party can personally afford the cost which parliamentary service entails. But no law forbids them to receive a salary from a labor fund, and so an arrangement of that kind has been made.

But there certainly is a question as to the right of these members to bind themselves to represent only one class of their constituents. They have put themselves in the position of being mere employees and agents of a certain organization They practically deny that they are the representatives of all the people of their respective districts, and that they are public officers, answerable for the State and to the State. In the circumstances, it may be right for the Labor organizations to pay salaries to those who cannot afford to serve in Parliament without compensation, but it is certainly not right for it to bind such members to vote only on certain specified measures. Representatives of Labor are ready enough to denounce those public servants who are owned by the corporations; but is it one white better in principle for a public servant to be owned by a labor organization?

Public office is a public trust; it is not an agency for corporations nor for labor unions, nor even for a political party or machine. When Mr. Josiah Howard was elected to the Assembly, he announced his intention to represent all the people of the county, a purpose which he has honestly and fearlessly and effectively fulfilled. This is the only proper attitude for any member of Parliament, Congress or Assembly to assume.

There is this, however, to be said on behalf of the Labor members of the British Parliament; the arrangement we have referred to has been made openly, and from honest, through mistaken, conviction. They make no hypocritical profession of being anything other than what they really are, —not patriots, not public servants, but representatives and agents of the Labor party. In our own country recent investigations have torn the mask from some selfstyled patriots and have shown them to be mere agents and hirelings of certain corporations Ten stripes of condemnation should fall upon these to one that should fall upon the Labor members of the House of Commons.

The Registration of Births.

If the Legislature of 1905 had passed no single act except that providing for the immediate registration of births and deaths in this Commonwealth, it would have conferred a lasting benefit upon our people and have earned for its members the title of true statesmen and patriots.

Vital Statistics constitute the foundation stone of all legislation for the public health, and are an important factor in judging the prosperity of a State.

The newborn child is recognized and recorded as a citizen of the Commonwealth from the moment of birth, and the record is a permanent one at the Capitol of the State. Not only are the exact date of birth, the sex, aud the name in full recorded, but also certain facts which differentiate the individual from every other of the same surname, such as the names of both parents, and their nationality. The identity of the peason is thus carefully maintained.

It is almost unnecessary to point out the great value of an official register of this kind in the determination of many legal questions, such as relate to the succession of property, the validity of wills, legitimacy of birth, and insurance claims.

There is not a Department of the State government from the State Executive down, which does not frequently receive communications from other states and countries inquiring for the records of the birth of certain individuals.

The Health Departments of our large cities are often able to give accurate information of this kind, but up to the present time State officials could only hang their heads in shame and confess that this great and venerable Commonwealth had not yet progressed sufficiently in the scale of civilization to possess a State system of registration of births.

It is quite true that in some churches where the rite of baptism is practiced, an entry was made in the baptismal record of children, and every lawyer knows how often such records are searched to obtain evidence of incalculable importance in the decision of contested wills. But these records are purely voluntary, often careless and at the best unreliable.

It is also true that so far as the birth of domestic animals is concerned, there has been a very commendable care exercised, not by the State, but by associations, who desire to preserve a connected history of the more valuable animals in the possession of their members. The herd book, the stud book and the kennel book contain every detail in connection with the birth and pedigree for generations back, of cows, horses and dogs supposed to be of especially good ancestry.

Many a man possessed of a fine herd of Swiss or Alderney cattle who could take down his herd book and point with absolute confidence to the date of birth of a valuable bull calf, would find himself greatly embarrassed if called upon to prove by documentary evidence the birth of one of his own children.

The duty of furnishing these valuable records falls upon the physician or midwife, should either be in attendance, if not upon the parents themselves.

It can easily be imagined that the mother, usually the most deeply interested party upon an occasion of this kind, will not rest until the requirements of the law which give her offspring a proper legal existence and citizenship have been complied with.

FINE LUMBER PLANT.

The Complete Lumber Operations of John E. DuBois in Cameron County.

[DuBois Express.

The Hicks Run railroad, that was recently incorporated and at the head of which is principally DuBois people, is fast becoming quite an important piece of road. It is one of the essential parts of the big lumber operation of John E. DuBois at Hicks Run.

It it essentially a log road, running from Hicks Run to Kelley's station, a distance of twelve miles. But in addition to this twleve miles of straight track, there are a number of branches running up the different valleys along the route. The rolling stock at present consist of five engines and about sixty cars, all in first class shape. The grade on the main line is very good although some of the branches are very steep.

The mill at Hicks Run is running day and night, and at present the road is kept busy hauling down the immense number of logs required to keep the operation busy, but is expected later that the railroad will put in service a passenger and supply train between the terminal points.

There are two big lumber camps along the railroad, and they are pronounced the finest of their kind in the country. The comfort of the men is looked after carefully, and in the neighborhood of 100 men are stationed at each one. The upper camp is in charge of Mark Landis and the lower has Woody Kelley as boss. These camps are said by those who have visited them to be the most complete ever devised in the midst of a wilderness.

The mill is built on a large scale, and employs a small army of men, many of them from DuBois Frank Patchell, formerly superintendent on the big mill, here, holds a similar position at Hicks Run.

The Days Delighted a Large Audience.

Very flattering was the reception, received by Mr. and Mrs. Elias Day, at the opera house, last Friday evening, when they gave the fourth number in the Peoples Star Entertainment Course before an audience that was of the regulation size. Long heralded and much bepraised, the expectations of the people ran high and that they met them and more, is to the credit of their art and justifies anew the claim put forward, that they are unequaled in their line of entertainment. Judged by the modern approved standards of acting, their work was worthy of the praises it received, many applying the superlative of excellence to the pretty little comedy, in which their varied abilities were given ample scope for display. In the several characters that he assumed, Mr. Day was always artistic and enjoyable, never for once deviating from the high standard set for himself and as for Mrs. Day none that heard her will deny her worthiness to be associated in a professional way with her distinguished husband. Each is the equal of the other in all the elements that ensure success in their chosen field of entertainment.

On next Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, "The Real Widow Brown" Company will be the attraction at the Opera House. The comedy is replete with fun, fast and furious, and is greeted with bursts of applause and merriment everywhere. The mistakes of the young man who is doing his best to personate the real, charming widow, are most ludicrous. He is assisted by a lively young girl with whom he is in love; while another pair of lovers are working in the same cause, each unawares of what the other is up to, making complications immeasurable, and funny in the extreme.

A Church Notice.

In a little town in Nova Scotia are two churches situated in two divisions of the village, locally designated as the "North End" and the "South End." At a Sunday morning service the officiating clergyman read the following notice:

There will be preaching at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning in the church at North End and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at South End. Infants will be baptised at both ends.—New York Times.

A Surprise Party.

A surprise party of about sixty invited guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Swartz, on Monday evening, in honor of Mrs Romig, sister of Mr. Swartz. Dancing and games were indulged in until a late hour, when all departed much delighted with the good time.

Consistency.

The Independent's "without bias or political prejudice" article in this week's issue may be as the editor sees it through his "smoked glass," but the voters of the borough will, no doubt see it as others see it. The editor devoted considerable space to Mr. Jos. Freindel's candidacy for council in West Ward, when that gentleman did not even aspire and was not nominated. Mr. E. H. Gregory, a gentleman of experience in Cameron county affairs is the nominee of the Republicans, while Chas. H. Felt is the Democratic candidate. Both good men.

The Independent's article is full of inconsistencies, but space and time will not warrant calling attention to them. The voters will do that on the 20th.

Inaugural Organ Recital.

Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church was filled to its utmost capacity last Saturday evening by our citizens, to hear the new $3,500 pipe organ recently installed—an extended account of the beautiful instrument having appeared in these columns last week. Prof. John R. Whiteley, of Philadelphia, presided at the organ and ably displayed the powers of the instrument, at the same time demonstrated the fact that he knew how to bring out the music. In addition to Mr. Whiteley's excellent numbers so beautifully rendered, Mr. Chas. T. Logan sang a tenor solo, "Seek Ye The Lord," assisted by the choir. Miss Mazie Gallagher, also a member of the choir, artistically rendered a violin solo. The Church Choir on this occasion was assisted by Messrs. Jay P. Felt and Fred Heilmen, greatly adding to the occasion.

The large audience was very evidently pleased with the entertainment, for they gave wrapt attention and remained until the program was completed.

The occasion was a happy one for Emmanuel, especially Mrs. Wm. H. Howard, the regular organist, who devoted much thought and time to the subject and traveled to many cities in order that the best instrument might be secured. Being for many years an expert organist, we may now expect a rich treat at her hands.

THE EXTRA SESSION.

Will Adjourn Thursday of Next Week—Agreement Has Been Reached.

HARRISBURG, February 6.—The extra session of the Pennsylvania Legislature for the enactment of reform legislation advocated by Governor Pennypacker in his official proclamation and supplementary call is almost sure to adjourn on February 15. A concurrent resolution fixing this date for final adjournment was adopted by the Joint Rules Committee of the Senate and House to-day and was subsequently adopted by the House without a dissenting vote. The resolution will come up in the Senate to-morrow and there is every reason to believe that it will be concurred in by that body.

Many of the bills to carry out the Governor's reform ideas are either well advanced on the calendars or about ready to be brought out of committee and acted upon promptly.

The McClain and the Sheatz uniform primary election bills were reported out of the Elections Committee to day in the House for printing and first reading. After they have been read to-morrow they will be sent back to committee and an effort made to agree on a bill satisfactory to a majority of the committee.

It is the Columbia Spy which says that "in these days of the far reaching trolley lines far roads there should be no excuse for illiteracy in the rural districts," and the saying will strike many people as truthful. But wait. Is it the belief of the Spy that trolley lines now run past or near every house and school house in all the townships of Pennsylvania? If so, it is sadly misinformed as to what the trolley people so far have done and as what they hope to do in the next ten years. And the roads the "fair roads," the dear, good roads for which we all hope, where, oh where, outside of Montgomery county, are they when the mud is ripe, the clay done to the sticky point or the snow piled mountain high as it was during the past two winters preceding this? Their uneven and ragged surface caught and held the snows until in many places whole townships had to turn out in order to force through the United States mails.

The benefits of the abolition of the free pass on conditions at Harrisburg are noted by the Lancaster Examiner, which says: For once the legislature meets at Harrisburg quietly and unaffected by hangers on, all due to the abolition of the free pass This latter will work other wonders and benefits. Sessions will be shorter and more work will be done in a given time, for those living far from Harrisburg can't afford to go home every week so may as well work as loaf around. The death of the pass will effect the lobby and the pressure that comes from constituents urging this or that legislation. Even the bosses will not run to and fro as formerly, and so very little of the old time excitement, coercion and corruption will be visible. In a short time the people will realize that the railroads have done wisely in cutting off passes.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

WILEY.

Jane Elizabeth Wiley, aged two and a half years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant S. Wiley, of Emporium, died at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. S. J. Interment will be made in Wildwood cemetery.—Wednesday's Williamsport Sun.

Man About Town.

Insure with good brother Pyle,
Just now putting on style;
He has bought some white hose,
Tan shoes and blue clothes
And wonders what makes the girls smile.

Nothing is ever printed in the Man About Town" column but the truth. We are not seeking friendship, only on that basis. All people are alike to us, when they tell the truth. Our enemies may be as large as trees or so scrubby the devil won't notice them, but "Hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will" is our motto and it takes our pension money to buy meat, potatoes and geese.

Now the butchers are selling bob veal.

The minister at the Hicks church Sunday evening, stopped preaching and turned his head toward the choir and sneezed—he sneezed hard—and then looked wishfully toward the choir. His false teeth were lying under the organ stool. None of the singers were gallant enough to pick them up and when he went after them he was somewhat rattled.

The "Man About Town" has received a "Black Hand Card." The writing on the card is a little obscure but skull and cross bones can be seen very plainly. We wish to say right here, we will place no $2,000,000 on the court house steps—we will split the wind to the mountains first.

GASSAWAY.

Ridiculous and yet perfectly natural situations, exquisite costumes, bright and catchy music, and clever acting briefly describe "The Real Widow Brown," Mr A. Q. Scammon's latest bid for popular favor along theatrical lines. An unqualified success wherever produced. It is certain to be greeted here by a large audience. Nothing has been undone to afford an evening of legitimate mirth, the company being one of exceptional merit. This fine attraction will be offered at the Emporium Opera House, Wednesday evening, February 14th.

Emperor William's Character.

As the German emperor is the person with whom the world's peace is most bound up, light on his character has more than personal interest. A recent book on Germany has a chapter devoted to the kaiser. The Boston Herald, summarizing it, says it shows that Bismarck's policy, both foreign and domestic, ran an even course; but that no sooner had the kaiser got rid of him than Germany's foreign policy became fitful, enigmatic and unstable, a replica of the emperor's impulsive character. The Herald goes on: "Another element of weakness in the government is its lack of stability. 'The emperor,' it is said, 'considers his ministers not as experienced and independent chiefs of the departments of state, entitled to opinions of their own, but as the executors of his will, and he removes them as soon as they do not succeed in fulfilling his wishes.' The domestic policy of the emperor is depicted as equally unfortunate. His arrogant imperialism and lack of toleration have driven the liberal elements of Germany into the ranks of the social democratic party, which is no more exclusively a party of malcontents recruited from the laboring classes, but now includes numerous manufacturers, merchants, bankers, professional men, etc., a proof of discontent among the middle classes. Summing up the net result of the emperor's increasing activity during the 17 years of his reign, the author finds that Germany has lost ground and prestige in foreign politics, and at the same time the emperor has communicated his own nervous restlessness to the rest of the world. The lack of true perspection, foresight and especially of stability is given as the reason for these disappointing results."

Woman's Inventive Genius.

It is not true that woman lacks creative genius. In fact, the inventive talent is marked in woman. There is usually something original in her makeup, asserts the Washington Star. The rude masculine observer who makes the charge that woman is defective in creativeness is wrong. He has noted that when one woman begins to wear a certain or uncertain shape of hat every other woman must have the same shape, be it shapely or shapeless. He has observed that when one woman switches the fullness of the sleeve from the elbow to the shoulder or back again from the shoulder to the elbow every other woman must do the same. He has observed that when one woman designs to bake a cake she insists on borrowing the neighbor's recipe, though this argues more for woman's reverence for precedent than for her lack of originality. The observer has also noted that the first woman got off the first street car backward and that ever since every other woman has done the same thing.

Insects and Disease.

The science of medicine seems to be on the verge of a vast change. If the reputed discoveries are reliable, physicians will have to abandon their medicine chests and turn themselves into entomologists. The alleged discovery that the mosquito described as stegomyia was alone responsible for yellow fever was sufficiently startling, but this has been followed by a host of discoveries which threaten to impose upon insects the sole responsibility for the spread of disease. According to the president of the Medico-Chirurgical college in Philadelphia there are 76 varieties of house flies which spread disease. They appear to wallow in the germs of typhoid fever, and they can communicate it to persons, which may account for the fact of so much typhoid fever during the summer and autumn in places where no germs could be found in the drinking water.

King Edward of England has sent to Benjamin M. Jennings, of Casey county, Kentucky, a very large diamond stud which is said to have been the property of Paul Kruger. The present was sent to the doctor because of the many valuable pharmaceutical preparations he has compounded, some of which were used by King Edward.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Washington, Jan. 30.—What is considered a strike at the railroads was taken by the house Monday in the adoption of a resolution calling on the president to furnish information as to the existence of an alleged agreement in violation of the inter-state commerce law between the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio, Northern Central and Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad companies. The Chinese boycott and the administration of the forest reserves divided the attention of the senate.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Members of the house evidenced a more general interest in the discussion of the railway rate bill yesterday than on any topic of legislation for some time. The debate throughout was listened to attentively and many questions were asked of the different speakers to bring out either obscure points in the measure or evils complained of, which no attempt had been made to include in the bill. The senate passed about 40 bills, many of them of considerable importance. The list included a number of measures for lighthouses, fog signals, revenue cutter vessels and public buildings, and also the bill providing for the reorganization of the consular service.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Discussion of the railroad rate bill continued in the house yesterday. Incident to it two speeches, the efforts of Mr. Campbell (Kansas) and Mr. Martin (S. D.) took a wider range and swept the horizon of "trust evils" generally. In the senate Mr. Patterson strongly endorsed the position of the president in San Domingo and in the matter of the Moroccan conference.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The house yesterday called for the estimate of cotton yet to be ginned, which the director of the census has compiled, but which he has no authority to make public until March. Discussion of the railroad rate bill was prosecuted with vigor throughout the day. The feature of the debate was the speech of Mr. Sibley, of Pennsylvania, who arraigned the legislation with arguments of varied character. The senate passed 30 or 40 miscellaneous bills and gave several hours to consideration of the shipping bill.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Oratory on the railway rate bill held the attention of the house for six hours yesterday. There was for a moment a prospect that the statehood bill would receive its first formal reading in the senate. The senate took up the calendar immediately after disposing of the routine business and as the statehood bill occupied the first place the secretary had begun to read it before any of the opponents of the bill realized the situation. He had covered but a few paragraphs when Mr. Teller put a stop to the proceeding for the time.

Will End a Reign of Terror.

New York, Feb. 3.—The treaty of Chinatown—"an agreement between the societies known as On Leong Tong and the Hip Sing Tong to insure peace and good will among the Chinese of Greater New York"—was drawn up and formally agreed to Friday before Justice Warren W. Foster, of the court of special sessions, who acted as arbitrator. The treaty will be signed with much ceremony next Tuesday. If the warring factions live up to the agreement it will mean the end of a reign of terror in Chinatown, in whose mysterious buildings murders have been of almost weekly occurrence.

Court Fines a Union $1,000.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—President Edwin R. Wright, of Typographical Union No. 16, was yesterday fined by Judge Holdom, of the superior court, $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail for contempt of court. Edward Bessette, a member of the union, was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The union itself was fined $1,000. The charge against the union and its members was violation of an injunction by which the members of the union were enjoined from interfering with the operation of the printing establishments operated by the Typothetae.

An Expensive Examination.

New York, Feb. 3.—Examiners representing the insurance departments of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kentucky, Tennessee and Nebraska, who four months ago began a joint investigation into the affairs of the New York Life Insurance Co., completed their task yesterday. To defray the expenses of this examination the New York Life had to pay $35,000.

Swearing Is Put Under a Ban.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—The police commissioners recently issued an order prohibiting policemen from swearing while on duty and last night Chief of Police Kiley issued an order that policemen shall arrest all persons who may be heard using profane language in public places.

Acknowledges Her Marriage.

New York, Feb. 3.—Doubt as to the marriage of Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes to Wilson Mizner was set at rest Friday by the filing of the certificate of the marriage with the bureau of vital statistics. In addition one newspaper quotes Mrs. Yerkes in confirmation.

Found Dead.

Pittsburg, Jan. 31.—A young man who had given his name as C. W. Butterfield, of Chicago, was yesterday found dead in a furnished room he had rented at 1217 Federal street, Allegheny. The man had been shot in the right temple and when found he lay on the floor beside the bed, with the bed clothing wrapped about him.

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—Frederick VIII. was proclaimed king of Denmark yesterday in Amalienborg square, in front of the palace.

The cabinet makers of France are artists, but they keep reproducing, year after year, the styles which their forefathers have made for centuries.

The cut of lumber in the Canadian province of Ontario will exceed that of last year by 100,000,000 feet. The cut will total about 450,000,000 feet.

Germany pig iron production in October passed, for the first time, the million-ton mark. The month's output reached 1,006,943 tons, a gain of 16 per cent. over October last year.

This country ranks first in the paper-making industry. Germany is second, and Great Britain comes third. The production in America is two or three times greater than in Great Britain.

The United States consumes all of its annual iron output of 35,000,000 tons. England consumes 6,000 tons more than its 14,000,000 ton output, and Germany 3,000,000 more than its 21,000,000 ton output.

One brick-making company put out 84,260,000 bricks, with an average to the machine of nearly 3,750,000. This is the largest average, and the greatest total of brick ever made in New York state by any brick manufacturing plant.

According to recent statistical statements published in the Bulletin of the Commercial Geographical society of Paris, the world's production of petroleum was divided as follows: United States, 15,000,000 tons; Russia, 10,600,000; Sumatra, Java and Borneo, 1,000,000; Roumania, 496,000; the East Indies, 404,000; all others, 250,000.

BUSINESS PRECEPTS.

Be original—if you are "different" the market for your talent is wider. If you do things the same as everybody else—somebody will cut the price and you will have to work cheap. If you possess individuality you have almost a monopoly and can get your own price.

Are you deaf to the knock of opportunity? Probably so, most of the time; and it is the same with every other man. Men of business are usually "over ears" in the rumble of routine thought, and it is small wonder that opportunity's timid raps are unperceived amid the sense-dulling din of the machinery of habit.

The habit of doing things, of viewing them in a certain way, once firmly fixed becomes a tyrant of the mind. It suppresses effort at reform and denies liberty of action to the faculties. Originality and progress are chained to the dungeon walls of custom. A man in business whose methods are dominated by rigid habit, becomes a mere automaton.

Why does a young firm grow? Because its members have not yet become slaves of time-worn methods. Why does an old house cease to grow? Because, in a measure, its members have their eyes blinded by the veil of custom and their ears have been stopped with the cotton of habit. They neither see nor hear the movement of changing conditions.

SWIPED SQUIBS.

It may be that it is "footbawl" rather than football to which the public objects.

What the average man needs more than anything else is a supply of evening reception conversation.

Cold weather makes ice. Ice makes the water wagon slippery. A slippery water wagon is hard to hold on to. Hence, therefore, etc., etc.

The president of a bachelors' club at Nevada, Mo., has resigned to get married. The presumption is that he grew tired of being at the head of things.

FACIAL PARALYSIS

Nervous Distortion of Face Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

What appears to be a slight nervous attack may be the forerunner of a severe disorder. No nervous sufferer should neglect the warning symptoms, but should see that the starved nerves are nourished before the injury to the delicate organism has gone to an extent that renders a cure a difficult matter. The nerves receive their nourishment through the blood, the same as every other part of the body, and the best nerve tonic and food is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The experience of Mr. Harry Bemis, of Truthville, Washington county, N. Y., substantiates this.

"I had been feeling badly for a long time," said Mr. Bemis, "and in the early part of September, 1902, I was compelled to quit work on account of my ill health. My trouble was at first extreme nervousness, then my sight became affected and I consulted an oculist who said I was suffering from paralysis. He treated me for some time, but I got no benefit. I tried another doctor and again failed to obtain any relief. My nervousness increased. Slight noises would almost make me wild. My mouth was drawn so I could scarcely eat and one eye was affected so I could hardly see. I had very little use of my limbs, in fact I was almost a complete wreck.

"I am all right now and am at work. That is because I followed my wife's advice and took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had used the same remedy herself with the most gratifying results and she persuaded me to try them when it appeared that the doctors were unable to help me. They acted very surely in my case; my face came back into shape and in time I was entirely well."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or by mail by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A booklet on Nervous Disorders sent free on request.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—The painter is the most important factor in painting. A job complete, done by a good painter, with the best quality of paint, costing say $40.00 ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paint applied by a dauber ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last only two years. Thus the "per-year-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's, $20.00.

'Above all, USE GOOD PAINT!

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

Miners' Convention Adjourns Sine Die.

LOOKS LIKE WAR.

All Indications Point to a Strike of Half a Million Coal Miners on April 1.

Indianapolis, Feb. 3.—With prospects pointing to a strike of 550,000 coal miners unless the present deadlock is broken by some unforeseen influence, the national convention of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned Friday afternoon after the dissolution of the joint conference without reaching a settlement of a wage scale.

President Mitchell, of the Miners' union, advised the delegates to go home and look to the securing of a defense fund in view of a possible industrial strife between miners and operators, the miners having refused to renew the present wage scale and the operators having refused to grant an increase in wages.

The apparent determination of both operators and miners indicates that neither will make overtures to the other for further negotiations; and, as indicated by the speeches of both the radicals and the conservatives of both organizations at the joint conference, it is probable that the 550,000 men controlled by the United Mine Workers will walk out of the mines in every part of the United States on April 1.

There have been intimations, but no assertions, that the president of the United States and the National Civic Federation may be asked to set in motion negotiations looking to a rehabilitation of the joint agreement, or at least a discussion of some possible means of bringing the operators and the miners together for further negotiations.

According to figures given out by the national officers of the miners' organization, the expected strike will bring out about 100,000 non-union miners in West Virginia and Pennsylvania with the 450,000 union miners. Of the 450,000 union men that would be affected, 150,000 will be out in the anthracite regions, 85,000 in the Pennsylvania bituminous district, 38,000 in Ohio, 17,000 in Indiana, 60,000 in Illinois, 16,000 in Iowa, 30,000 in West Virginia, 3,000 in Michigan and 51,000 in Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Indian Territory and Arkansas.

ERB SAYS HE GOT $141,223.

Story of Graft in the Insurance Commissioner's Office at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 3.—Information as to the business methods of the state insurance department and the enormous fees received by the actuary was brought out at Friday's sessions of the legislative investigating committee. The principal witnesses were James H. Lambert, of Philadelphia, a former insurance commissioner; David Martin, the present commissioner, and Clayton Erb, of Philadelphia, actuary and examiner in the department during the term of Commissioner Israel W. Durham, the former republican leader of Philadelphia. Mr. Erb was also known in the department as Mr. Durham's private secretary.

The most important development came out when Mr. Erb declared that he never paid to Durham any of the actuarial fees received by him. Actuary Forster in his testimony before the commission had declared that during Durham's term from 1899 to July, 1905, he (Forster) had handed Erb $141,223 of the actuarial fees. When asked last night what he had done with this money Mr. Erb declared that he had kept it.

Asked if he had paid none of it to Mr. Durham, Erb replied: "Absolutely none. It may surprise you, but I paid him not one cent of this money."

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Results During January Were Very Satisfactory.

New York, Feb. 3.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Complaints have been numerous regarding the mild weather, January having closed without bringing normal winter temperature in many sections of the country. Yet results for the month were most satisfactory on the whole and preparations for the future continue with confidence.

Two important industries are in danger of serious labor controversies, which, with the weather, constitute the only adverse news of the business world. Manufacturing plants are well engaged, orders on hand being of such volume as to assure activity for some time to come, especially at steel mills and footwear factories.

Failures in the United States this week numbered 268, against 259 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 30 last year.

Havana, Feb. 3.—In response to a request from the Italian minister, President Palma yesterday cancelled the exequatur of the Italian vice consul, Luis Torricelli, who was afterward arrested, charged with the theft of $40,000 entrusted to him by a widow.

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 3.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Transeau in South Williamsport was destroyed by fire Friday. Their two children were burned to death.

BATTLES IN CHURCHES.

Fighting Follows Efforts to Inventory Church Property in France.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Everywhere in France the actual putting into operation of the clause of the church and state separation bill which provides for the making of inventories of the property of the churches has aroused a storm of protest. In several provincial parishes Catholics gathered in the churches and made such strong resistance that the government commissioners were unable to enter the edifices.

In Paris violent scenes took place yesterday in several churches, notably those of St. Roch and St. Clothilde. An inventory of the property of the church of St. Roch has not yet been made, owing to the opposition of the congregation, but the defenders of the church of St. Clothilde succumbed before the energetic assault of an armed force.

Inside the church the congregation had erected barricades which had to be taken by assault, while men and women fainted. After the church had been cleared the commissioner proceeded to take the inventory, the Catholics outside singing canticles.

The ejection of the crowd resulted in the injuring of many persons on both sides, including 50 policemen and guards and a still higher number of the militant Catholics. One hundred and fifty members of the congregation were arrested.

WILL BE CHIEF OF STAFF.

Gen. Franklin Bell Is to be Head of the Army After Gen. Bates Retires.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The president yesterday nominated Maj. Gen. John C. Bates, at present chief of staff, to be lieutenant general to succeed Lieut. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, retired yesterday. He also nominated Brig. Gen. A. W. Greeley, chief signal officer, to be major general; also Col. James Allen to be brigadier general and chief of the signal corps to succeed Gen. Greeley. It was further announced that Brig. Gen. Franklin Bell, now in command of the infantry and cavalry school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., would be appointed chief of staff to succeed Gen. Bates upon his retirement next April.

Gen. Bell is a native of Kentucky and is a West Pointer, having entered the academy in 1874. He was 50 years of age last Wednesday. Consequently he may be for at least 14 years chief of staff, a fact which has sadly disarranged the plans of some ambitious officers.

THREE LIVES LOST IN FIRE.

San Francisco Fire Fighters Saved the Transport Meade from Destruction.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—Three men were killed and 58 injured, mostly by suffocation, in a fire that damaged the United States transport Meade to the extent of $2,000 as she lay at the Folsom street pier Thursday morning.

For three hours after midnight the forward hold of the big troopship was a suffocating furnace from which firemen were borne in almost continuous streams. Relays of men promptly stepped forward to take the places of those who were carried out unconscious.

Tons of high explosives were loaded in the after part of the vessel and the firemen worked with the possibility ever before them that the flames would reach this compartment.

Murdered Man Found in a Trunk.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 2.—The murdered body of Walter P. Dolsen, aged 26 years, discharged from the marine corps here on Saturday after an honorable service of five years, was yesterday found in a trunk which had been purchased by the alleged murderer following the commission of the crime. Charles F. Taylor, with whom Dolsen had been rooming at a lodging house, where the murder occurred, has fled. The crime is laid to him.

Policeman Killed a Burglar.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—A man who gave his name as Patrick Say, of Peoria, Ill., died in a hospital here Thursday from the effects of a bullet wound received Wednesday night while endeavoring to escape from a policeman. Say was detected in the act of robbing a grocery and sought safety in flight. He was pursued by Policeman Kellar, who fired two shots after the fugitive. The second bullet struck Say in the back.

Virginia Has a New Governor.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2.—Claude A. Swanson, of Chatham, who began public life as a member of the Fifty-third congress and has been re-elected to every congress since, was inaugurated governor of Virginia, and Taylor Ellison, of Richmond, former mayor, a Confederate veteran and for the past 14 years chairman of the democratic state committee, was inaugurated lieutenant governor yesterday.

Deficit Almost Wiped Out.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures issued yesterday shows a condition of the treasury which is eminently satisfactory to the officials. One year ago there was a deficit of over $28,500,000, which has now been reduced to less than $3,400,000, with the prospect that this amount will be entirely wiped out within the next 30 days.

Fire Loss of Half a Million.

Panama, Feb. 2.—Fire started yesterday in a four-story wooden house in the Carrera district. The firemen for some time were unable to successfully fight the flames and a large block of houses was destroyed. The losses are estimated at $500,000, with little insurance.

Gave Its Employes Free Insurance.

New York, Feb. 2.—The fact that the Equitable Life Assurance Society has for the last four years insured free the lives of its 900 employes for $1,000 each became known yesterday.

FALL WHEAT RAISING IN ALBERTA.

The Spring Wheat Areas Are Rapidly Increasing.

It is only a few short years since the impression prevailed that a large portion of the Canadian West was unfitted for agriculture. To such an extent did this impression prevail that districts larger than European principalities were devoted solely to ranching purposes, and flocks and herds roamed the ranges. But the agriculturist was doing some hard thinking, and gradually experiments were made, slowly at first, but surely later on. As a result, to-day in Southern Alberta, which was looked upon as the "arid belt," large quantities of the finest winter wheat in the world are now grown, and so satisfied are the farmers and buyers that the industry has passed the experimental stage that elevators by the score have been erected in the past two years and others are in course of erection, to satisfy the demands that will be made upon them in the near future.

Manitoba "No. 1 Hard" spring wheat has achieved a world-wide reputation, and there can be no question that ere long "No. 1 Hard" winter wheat from Alberta will attain similar repute. The great market for this production will undoubtedly be the Orient, and, with increased railway facilities and the erection of additional elevators and flouring mills, a largely increased acreage will be broken to winter wheat. The increase of population in Southern Alberta in the past year has been largely due to settlers from the United States, who have brought in capital, and enterprise, and who have been uniformly successful in their undertakings. A few more such years of growth and "Turkey Red" winter wheat will wave from Moose Jaw to the foothills. Information regarding lands in the Fall and Spring Wheat belts may be obtained of any Canadian government agent.

Killing for Glory and Honor.

It is a great thing, this glory and honor of nations. For it men go and shoot at perfect strangers without an introduction and are shot at by them. Those who are killed are heroes and get their names misspelled in a list. The more of these there are the greater the glory and honor redounding to the credit of the nation supplying them. The nation measures its glory and honor by the number of its citizens slain. So this glory and honor must be a fine and noble thing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DOCTOR CURED OF ECZEMA.

Maryland Physician Cures Himself—Dr. Fisher Says: "Cuticura Remedies Possess True Merit."

"My face was afflicted with eczema in the year 1897. I used the Cuticura Remedies, and was entirely cured. I am a practicing physician, and very often prescribe Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed. I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merit, such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for sixteen years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. You are at liberty to publish this letter. G. M. Fisher, M. D., Big Pool, Md., May 24, 1905."

THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND PLENTY

OWN A FARM AND BE INDEPENDENT

We have a tract of the finest land in Southern Alabama to be sold in 40 to 160 acre tracts. CASH OR EASY PAYMENTS.

LOCATED IN WASHINGTON COUNTY—MOST HEALTHFUL SPOT IN THE SOUTH

No cold weather, no coal to buy, less clothing, and, in fact, living is one-half the cost as in the north. A man with very little capital can own a forty-acre tract and become independent in a few short years by raising vegetables and fruits for the northern and eastern markets. We have the best shipping facilities, both by water and rail, making our lands the best garden spot in the country. This section offers more advantages for the wage earner or the man with a small capital than any spot on this green earth. This land will yield larger profits than you can realize out of northern land worth $150 per acre. The land is a rich sandy loam, with a clay subsoil, and grows peaches, pears, grapes, figs and all kinds of small fruits and vegetables in great abundance. Also corn, oats, sweet and Irish potatoes and cotton. This location is famous for its salubrious climate and curative powers. Plenty of creeks and pure spring drinking water. We are erecting a hotel, church, schoolhouse and store building in our new town.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Lyceum Theatre in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 6, 1906, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:

One person for the office of Governor;
One person for the office of Lieutenant-Governor;
One person for the office of Auditor-General.
One person for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs; and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

In accordance with the rules governing the party, the representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is intitled to one delegate for each two thousand votes cast for Republican electors in 1904, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the State Committee,
W. R. ANDREWS, Chairman.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH.

Its Healing Balsams Kill all Catarrhal Germs—Sold Under Guarantee by L. Taggart.

There is no more common disease than catarrh, and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious, and sometimes fatal complications.

It is a note worthy fact that among the many medicines and treatments for catarrh, there is only one which L. Taggart sells under their positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure,—Hyomei, Nature's remedy for the cure of catarrh.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed througg the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose, and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. The inhaler will last a life time, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, whenever needed, for only 50 cents.

L. Taggart is selling a good many Hyomei outfits at this season, and he has so much confidence in the remedy that he guarantees to refund the money in case it does not cure.

It takes a soft man to spread himself successfully.

What a Congressional Recommendation Means to this County.

[Clearfield Journal.]

Now that the question of who shall be recommended from Clearfield county for a nomination for Congress is brought to the public we would like to present to the voters the status of Clearfield county in this Congressional district and to insist that if we desire to be represented by a Republican in Congress we must make no mistake in the recommendation of a good man from each county so that when the plum drops it will fall on the shoulders of a man who can be elected. The position in the District to-day is a peculiar one by reason of the rule which we shall recite and which reads as follows.

That each county in the district in all congressional conferences shall be entitled to three conferees or delegates to be elected by each county in accordance with their respective Rule; provided, however, that after the first day's session of the conference, no nomination is made, then an adjournment shall be had for not more than one week or less than five days; and when the conference is reconvened and ten ballots shall have been taken and no nomination is made, then each County's representation shall be thereafter as follows: Three votes absolutely and one additional vote for each $1,000 Republican voters or majority fraction thereof, polled at the last preceding presidential election. After ten more ballots have been had no nomination made, then the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and so to continue on each succeeding ballot until a nomination is made. And it is further provided that any one or more conferees or delegates present from any county shall cast the full vote to which it is entitled.

Now then under that rule let us take up the voting and see what the outcome may be. It says three votes ABSOLUTELY for every county and one additional vote for every 1000 Republican votes cast at the preceding Presidential election. Here is the analysis. (Read the rule above.)

Rev. vote 1904—
9,541, Clearfield county, 3 plus 10 equals 13 votes
5,291, Centre county, 3 plus 5 equals 8 votes
1,228, Cameron county, 3 plus 1 equals 4 votes.
5,719, McKean county, 3 plus 6 equals 9 votes.

Total votes that could be cast..... 34

And here is the checker board of the situation. If Cameron and Clearfield vote together the result will be 17 votes and if on the same ballot Centre and McKean vote together the result will be 17 votes and a tie. Centre voting with Cameron would produce 12 votes whila if McKean votes with Clearfield would be 22 votes and an election. Or in other words Cameron and Clearfield can tie McKean and Centre but Cameron voting with any other county could not do so and an election could only be secured against Clearfield county by the combined vote of the other three counties of the district or a heavy fraction thereof. The situation is such as to command attention of those who are aspiring for a nomination to Congress and to prompt the voters to the selection of the very best men in the several counties of the district so that which ever county may secure the nomination will present a candiate who can win. Captain Barclay is mentioned in Cameron, Ex-Judge Love in Centre, Major McCreight in Clearfield with McKean yet to hear from. Should the honor be bestowed upon any of the aspirants named it will be sufficient to guarantee a Republican representative in Congress. Clearfield being the largest and most influential the nominee should be given to Clearfield without contest.

What will the Republicans of Cameron do? It has been the wish of our people for some years that one of our citizens should be the Republican candidate, yet there has never been an energetic contest waged for the prize. We have several gentlemen eminently qualified for the position, who would make creditable candidates. Let the Republicans act at once and present a solid front. Capt. C. F. Barclay has been prominently mentioned throughout the district as an available candidate and we believe would have the united support of the Republicans of this county for the nomination, should he be requested to stand for the nomination. An early action on the part of our people would aid the choice of this county. Act at once.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince yon. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or money back. 25c at L. Taggart's drug store. Try them.

A hypocrite is a man who prays with his fingers crossed.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol digests what you eat. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Some men are forever mistaking notoriety for fame.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, therby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name, on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicgao, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. Sold by L. Taggart.

The New Cough Syrup—the one that acts as a mild cathartic on the bowels—is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It expells all cold from the system, cuts phlegm out of the throat, strengthens the membrane of the bronchial tubes, and relieves croup, whooping cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Many a man who smiles and says nothing is a liar.

All old-time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membrane, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

A Habit to be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle ef Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

A man who profits by wrong doing always has an excuse ready.

They never gripe or sicken, but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headaches, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by R. C. Dodson, Agonizing Burns.

Are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfork, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee dreadfully; that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores, 25c at L. Taggart druggist

The happiness reaped to-day depends on that sown yesterday.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the geuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

It's so much easier to borrow trouble than it is to pay debts.

Itching Piles.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chaimberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and robbing the parts vigorously at each application. Let Something Good Be Said.

When over the fair name of friend or foe
The shadows of disgrace shall fall; instead
Of words of blame, or proof of thus and so,
Let something good be said.

Forget not that no fellow being yet
May fall so low but love may lift his head,
Even the cheek of shame with tears is wet,
If something good be said.

No generous heart may vainly turn aside
In ways of sympathy, no soul so dead
But may awaken strong and glorified,
If something good be said.

And so I charge ye, by the thorny crown,
And by the cross on which the Saviour bled,
And by your own souls hope of fair renown,
Let something good be said!

STORIES OF THE SECRET SERVICE

BY

Capt. Patrick D. Tyrrell

The Bothamley Murder Mystery

Being an Account of the Efforts Made by This Government to Bring to Justice the Murderer of Clement L. Bothamley, an Englishman Killed in Kansas.

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRRELL

[Copyright, 1905, by Marion G. Scheitlin.]

Her death was followed by a season of physical and mental suffering on the part of Bothamley, and this fact was one of the strongest arguments produced by the advocates of the suicide theory. It was entirely reasonable to suppose that a man of Bothamley's evident refinement, after deserting his family under stress of a mad infatuation for the wife of another man, should suffer a mental wrench at the death of his inamorata that might unbalance his mind and drive him to suicide in the solitude of a frontier trail. This was an easily spun theory, and one that appealed strongly to the sentimentalists.

Personally, I did not believe that the Englishman had sent a bullet through his own brain. I believe the records of crime will bear me out in this general conclusion—that the man who flings moral, legal and social obligations to the winds, as Bothamley had done when he eloped with Mrs. Miller, is seldom molded of such delicate clay as to blow out his brains when his companion in sin dies. To follow the course that Bothamley had followed in England a man must be essentially selfish; and selfishness of this kind does not beget self-destruction. To my mind it was more probable that Bothamley had formed another liaison than that he had destroyed himself on account of the tragic ending of the first. Suicide under these circumstances would have been the natural refuge of a woman—not of a man.

In additional support of my belief that Bothamley had been murdered, there were several corroborative physical circumstances. One of the most convincing of these was the fact, well established by science, that the human animal instinctively shuns the pointing of a pistol to the eye when about to take its own life. The bullet had entered Bothamley's face just under the right eye. Scientists assert that there is not a single record of suicide by shooting in which the weapon has been aimed at the eye, and they go so far as to claim that such a course would be impossible. To press the muzzle of the weapon against the forehead or the temple, thus hiding it from the vision, in common; to point the weapon at the eye is unheard of.

Another circumstance going to disprove the suicide theory was the finding of the pistol, a self-acting Colt's of 45 caliber, by the side of the body in such a position that it seemed impossible for it to have fallen there had the shot been fired by Bothamley himself. And, further, there were no powder marks, according to Vetter and Dodson, on the man's face when found.

But the murder, if it was such, could never be established, and the guilt of the murderer proved, with theories. The case was under the general supervision of United States District Attorney J. R. Hallowell, but the local authorities had done about all that lay in their power. Col. Hallowell left me to my own devices in the work that followed, merely saying that the department of justice very much desired to have the murderer punished.

Truth compels me to say that I saw but one promising path to travel, and that was an investigation of the career of the woman whom Bothamley had introduced as his sister, and with whom he was making the journey to Texas when he met his death. From all I was able to learn of the dead Englishman he was a man who was more likely to meet his death through entanglement with a woman than at the hands of Indians or desperadoes. I had studied the probabilities of murder at the hands of the last two agencies and found them weak. There was no evidence that an averaging hand had reached across the Atlantic to punish Bothamley for the ruin of two homes. In a liaison in force at the time of his death, therefore, I expected to find the evidence desired.

At Skeleton ranch there was a post office presided over by a woman. From this source it was learned that some little time before the death of Bothamley his companion had mailed two letters. The post is not overburdened at an office like Skeleton ranch, and the postmistress had plenty of time to inspect addresses of incoming and outgoing mail. In this case she was also garrulous and of retentive memory. From her I learned that one of the letters mailed by the supposed sister of Bothamley was a bulky one in a legal envelope, and addressed to the clerk of Harvey county. This proved on investigation to have been a deed made by Sarah A. Laws, spinster, of Sedgwick county, Kansas, to Bertha L. Bothamley, of Harvey county, covering 640 acres of land in the latter county. The consideration in the deed was given at $12,800. The description of the land in the deed coincided with the legal description of the ranch on which Bothamley had lived.

This discovery raised the question of the identity of Sarah A. Laws. Diligent inquiry failed to reveal such a woman, and, had she lived in the county claimed, it was unlikely that she could not be located. The identity of the Laws woman, therefore, became a problem. The fact that a deed to the Bothamley ranch, however, had been forwarded for record by Bothamley's woman companion invested that person with even greater interest.

The discovery of her real identity was not a matter calling for any great effort. While at the Bothamley ranch, where she had passed as his sister, she had been identified as Mrs. Nellie Bailey, the daughter of a Kansas rancher and carpenter named G. F. Benthuson. The whereabouts of her husband was unknown for the remarkable reason that will appear later.

Important chapters in her life were not known to her acquaintances in Kansas. At this time the circumstantial case against her seemed to be growing stronger. In fiction the shrewd detective would have gathered a number of incriminating circumstances, grouped them into a narrative which he would have recited to the suspect, who, thereupon, as a tribute to the skill of the detective, would have broken down and tearfully confessed the crime. Had intelligent work been done immediately after the finding of Bothamley's body some such method might have been used with the results desired. But I doubt the effect of the "deduction and accusation" method on Nellie Bailey. At every intimation of her guilt she looked at you squarely with the bluest of blue eyes and protested innocence in a way that left the man who was firmly convinced of her guilt in doubt. Innocent or guilty, nature had given her a nervous system on which threats, insinuations or other attempts to pierce her composure had not the faintest effect. I believe she would have gone to the gallows, had fate so decreed, with the same air of injured innocence that she had maintained since the Indian police had taken her into custody because she was the logical person to have guilty knowledge of the crime.

She was shrewd enough to know that the drear plains had furnished no witness to what had transpired in the little house on wheels on October 7. She knew that any case made against her must be purely circumstantial. And she also knew that which I did not realize at the time—that in a country where women are few, a pretty woman—even if she be bad—is practically immune for the dangers of circumstantial evidence in a criminal trial. Therefore she "stood pat" in her innocence or guilt, placing it squarely up to the government to make its case.

Inquiry in the county in which she had lived developed several interesting and suggestive facts concerning her. She was an expert markswoman with a revolver and a daring equestrienne. She rode astride, shooting with accuracy at wolves and other game from the saddle. She usually carried a revolver slung to a cartridge belt buckled around her waist. Small of stature, exuberant of health, daring in spirit, clad in short skirts and sombrero, she was a figure not soon forgotten by those who had seen her. Despite her mannishness in the saddle and with the pistol, she had played a part in numerous love affairs, for it must be remembered that on the frontier a woman in a sombrero is not a rarity, and one that can rope a pony or shoot straight is not classed as masculine. These were traits of the plains, desirable rather than otherwise, even in a pretty woman.

From the time Nellie Benthuson had gone into long skirts she had associated principally with men, among whom she was a favorite; and neighborhood gossip recorded numerous love affairs of more or less earnestness. In all she had earned the reputation of being fickle, quick in forming attachments and equally quick in dismissing them. These love affairs had culminated in her marriage to Shannon Bailey, a young lawyer, good looking, of some means, giving promise of rapid advancement in his profession and intensely in love with the high-spirited, hoydenish Nellie.

During the courtship Bailey had been the victim of at least one of that numerous class of individuals who delight in carrying gossip to the person most interested. In this case one of these officious chatter-boxes whispered things to Bailey about his fiancee that adoring lovers do not like to hear. These whisperings had the usual effect. Instead of breaking the attachment it strengthened it; but at the same time it planted seeds of distrust that later bore their fruit in a most grewsome way.

Bailey promptly married the girl, but decided that they could be happier were she taken away from the scene of her girlish attachments. The Pacific coast was decided upon, and to the coast they went. They spent two months in California, Oregon and Washington. Over this trail I did not follow them. They returned to Kansas, settling temporarily at Clinton. Here the fickle bride almost immediately on their arrival fell in love with a telegraph operator and Bailey noted the attachment. There was a scene. Bailey shot at his wife's new admirer, missed him and then whisked his bride away to Dakota.

They first went to Huron, intending to settle there, and took rooms at the Wright house. In a few days Mrs. Bailey plunged into another flirtation, as furious as the first. Another scene resulted, ending in separation. Bailey took quarters away from the hotel and his bride remained at the Wright house. Several days later Bailey and his wife again became reconciled. She evidently had the power to throw him into the most violent fits of jealous rage, and then, by pretense of repentance and other woman's wiles, to bring him to her feet again. Right after this second reconciliation the pair moved to De Smet, a mere hamlet at that time, containing only 16 families. The country was new and was being developed by the railroad that had just built a line through it.

Bailey believed that the village had a promising future and announced his intention to settle there and go into the real estate and loan business. In his travels he had carried with him several thousand dollars, and soon after arriving at De Smet he deposited this money in the Bank of Kingsbury County, conducted by A. and Thomas H. Ruth. The Baileys rented a two-story building that had been used as a shoe store, with living rooms above, bought furniture and soon were, to all appearances, comfortably settled.

The ground covered by the Baileys from the time they returned from the Pacific coast until they settled in De Smet was all carefully gone over by me. It must be remembered that in these wanderings they had been nearly a year in advance of me, and I necessarily depended to a great extent on the gossip they had left in their wake. From this I sifted as carefully as I could the statements that I deemed worthy of credence. At each place they had stopped there were plenty of tales of jealous quarrels, always due, as nearly as I could judge, to the fickleness of the bride and her seeming wanton pleasure in keeping her husband in the throes of jealous rage. The conclusion I drew was this: That here was a case of a woman who had married, not from love, but because her suitor had been a desirable "catch." I was satisfied that she had had no genuine affection for Bailey; but to the daughter of an obscure carpenter, an offer of marriage from a rising, agreeable young lawyer of ample means was not to be treated lightly.

Thus I judged the woman on the facts as I had gathered them and without prejudice or desire to work any injustice. And here I wish to say that in my many years of work in hunting down and securing evidence against criminals of all kinds—a career begun in 1856—I have never been dishonest in trying to manufacture evidence against any person suspected or accused, and I have never formed premature notions of the guilt or innocence of a suspect, always reserving conclusions on this point until the facts gleaned forced such conclusions. I am fully aware that many detectives of my personal acquaintance first assume the guilt of a suspect and then make the evidence fit their preconceived idea. Even-handed justice is due the worst criminal. If they are guilty intelligent, honest and persevering work on the part of the officers of the law will develop that fact if the evidence is in any way obtainable. If not—well, I have always believed in the adage that it is better for nine guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be punished. So in the case of Nellie Bailey I took the stories of her flirtatious wanderings for just what they were worth as shedding light on the character of the woman—and for nothing more.

On April 24 the Baileys moved into their De Smet home. For three days Bailey was seen about town in good health and spirits, engaged in the petty affairs connected with the furnishing of his home. So far as I could learn on my arrival at De Smet several months later, he had not been seen by any of the neighbors after the 27th of the same month. He had bade no one good-by and none of the townspeople had seen him leave. Mrs. Bailey went blithely about her daily household duties, and when questioned concerning the absence of her husband, explained he had business interests in California and had been summoned thither by telegraph. Of course, there was some gossip over the hasty and unseen departure of the lawyer, but it turned more on his having deserted his wife on account of her frivolity and freedom of action with other men than on anything more serious.

For two months Mrs. Bailey lived in De Smet, and then she announced that her husband did not intend to return there, and that she intended to leave. The newly bought furniture was sold at a sacrifice and other preliminaries to her departure quickly arranged. Elgin, Ill., was given as her destination, and later this was found to be the place to which she went. Thus the Baileys faded out of Dakota.

On my arrival at De Smet I went to the bank of Kingsbury. I had sent in an assumed name, and while waiting to be admitted a voice called out:

"Hello, Tyrrell, is that you?"

I found the speaker to be Mr. Ruth, who had served on a jury before which I had had a counterfeiting case in St. Paul. There was no further chance for me to conceal my identity or my mission. The Ruth brothers placed their services at my disposal. From them I ascertained that Bailey had deposited several thousand dollars in the bank when he first came to De Smet and that he had withdrawn it soon afterward. From the same source I learned of the arrival and departure of the Baileys and of the gossip that attended the disappearance of the lawyer.

HEARING AFTER DEATH.

Remarkable Instance of Continued Animation After Severance of the Head.

An extraordinary incident which occurred at the guillotining at Orleans of the murderer Languille has been interestingly explained by Prof. Hartsmann, a famous Paris surgeon, says the London Mail. When the blade of the guillotine fell, Languille's head was completely severed from the trunk. A doctor who was in attendance immediately picked up the head and called the dead man's name. To the astonishment of all present the eyelids of the severed head opened wide and then closed again.

"Languille! Languille!" called the doctor a second time, and once more the eyelids lifted, but a third call met with no response.

Prof. Hartsmann says it is quite possible for a form of nervous life to exist after death. This would not be the case if the subject died naturally or of some disease, but undoubtedly it would be so in the case of a healthy person meeting with a sudden and violent death. When a strong man suddenly passes from life to death his bodily tissues show a considerable amount of resistance.

The professor says that he himself dissected the body of a man 36 hours after he had been executed, and that on pricking with a needle the nerve of the thick he discovered that it was alive.

In the case of Languille, says the professor, the eyelids opened, not because the name of Languille was pronounced, but because the sound of the voice on the ears produced a reflex action on the nerves. They would have lifted had any other name been called.

Roosevelt and Uncle Jake.

This story is told about President Roosevelt and an aged darky called Uncle Jake. The all colored man was very religious, and was considered a pillar of the church he attended.

The president, while out driving one cold morning, met Uncle Jake, crippled with rheumatism, hobbling along.

"Good morning, Jake," said the president.

"Good morning, sah," responded the darky.

Then a happy thought struck Mr. Roosevelt. "Uncle Jake," he said, "which would you rather have this cold morning, a ton of coal or a bottle of whisky?"

"Well," said the darky, hesitatingly "it's this way, Mistah President, you see, ma folks burn wood."—Boston Herald.

LINCOLN'S FIRST CASE

An Incident of His Career at New Salem, Ill.

The incidents of this story are taken from Mrs. Mary Hartwell Catherwood's "Spanish Peggy," a story of New Salem, Ill., at the time Lincoln resided there. The compiler can claim credit for nothing more than the grouping of the incidents into a complete short story.

Abraham Lincoln was studying Blackstone in the cabin of Minter Grayham at New Salem when Richard Yates came in. The two young men were the best of friends, and it was the custom of Richard to ride over from Jacksonville whenever opportunity offered for a few days with his friend.

"Going in for law, are you, Abe?" said Yates, as he noticed the book Lincoln was reading.

"Mighty interesting book, this," replied Lincoln.

"I'm going to study law myself," said Yates, "and let's make a bargain to try our first case together."

"The bargain is made," replied Lincoln, "and whoever gets the first case calls in the other for assistance."

Shickshack was dead and New Salem mourned for him. Shickshack the Sac Indian who preferred to live among the whites to life with his tribe; who had been foster father to Peggy since the days her Spanish father had laid her, an infant, in his arms when the father was dying and had none but this Indian friend with whom to intrust his baby daughter; the stepfather of Antywine, the French boy.

Peggy was in reality Consuelo Lorimer, descendant of Don Louis Lorimer, at one time Spanish governor of his majesty's possessions in the new world. All New Salem knew this, but they did not know that around Shickshack's waist was carried a snakeskin filled with Spanish gold that belonged to the crippled child. That is they did not know this until Shickshack was dead, when Antywine turned the snakeskin and its contents over to Lincoln to keep for her.

If New Salem folks had not known of the existence of Peggy's gold Don Pedro Lorimer, New Orleans gambler, had. He had been with Peggy's father when the little fortune had been intrusted to the Indian for safe keeping, and he had made more than one effort to get possession of it, usually by claiming relationship and guardianship of the child.

Lincoln was not to be found when Lorimer arrived at the village after the death of Shickshack, and demanded possession of the child and her belongings. He came backed by a set of young hoodlums from Clary's Grove. It was Dick Yates who met them at the Rutledge tavern, but he was powerless. They wanted the girl, but they wanted her money more than anything else, and Lincoln had the money. Taking the girl with them, and accompanied by Yates, they started out to find Lincoln. They found him at the home of Antywine, the home over which Peggy, now a girl of 18, was to be mistress.

"Lincoln, you have somewhere a snakeskin filled with gold belonging to my young cousin over whom I claim legal guardianship. Produce it and you shall not be harmed." It was the Spaniard, Lorimer, who spoke.

"Boys, you ought to be ashamed of yourselves," said Lincoln, addressing himself to the young fellows from Clary's Grove rather than to the Spaniard.

"We didn't come here for a speech, Abe. We want the money and we want it quick," yelled Redmond Clary.

"And you won't get it," replied Lincoln.

"String him up like a horsethief," cried a man at the rear.

"Wait!" commanded Lincoln, stretching out his long arm.

"I will not wait while boys practice speeches. This is not what was promised me," hissed the Spaniard.

"What Red Clary promised you," returned Lincoln, "was that if you would cancel his gambling debts to yourself he would make me hand over the girl's money."

Clary was off his horse and at his accuser in a moment, and Lincoln realized that he must fight it out. He was standing on a slight elevation where he had stepped the better to address the crowd, and as Clary came at him he caught the bull-bodied champion by the collar and flung him across the ring.

It was a fight to a finish now, and Lincoln, realizing that words would be useless should he lose in this contest of force, went at it to best his adversary in the only court that adversary would recognize. It was a fierce contest for a few minutes, and then Lincoln caught Clary with a stinging blow beneath the chin and tumbled him to the ground, where he lay with the wind well knocked out of him. Standing over Clary's body Lincoln made an impassioned speech to the others of the rowdy gang for justice for his little Spanish client. He told her history; he told who Don Pedro Lorimer was; he appealed to the best that was in them; to their love for their sisters, and he won, and Don Pedro Lorimer knew that he had won, and spurring his horse forward he attempted to ride the young orator down, and to grab the snakeskin which Lincoln had passed to Yates at the beginning of the fight. As he did so Antywine, aroused from a stupor, darted from the cabin and, grabbing the bits, brought the horse to its haunches. Before the astonished rider could recover Lincoln asked with whimsical significance:

"Boys, how would any of you like to get up out of chill-and-fever and find all Clary's Grove helping a stranger rob you of your own dear gal?"

The question had the desired effect. Down the village street went Don Pedro Lorimer, and after him went the crowd from Clary's Grove. They caught him at the banks of the Sangamon, and rolled him into the river in a barrel. Wiser counsel alone prevented his being allowed to drown, but he never again appeared in the vicinity of New Salem to molest the bride of Antywine, and Lincoln and Yates had tried their first case together and had won.

An Argument That Admitted of Some Disputatious Question.

The Naggsbys were entertaining, and to be entertained by the Naggsbys is a liberal education in the art of bickering, and making things generally uncomfortable for everyone present, relates the Bystander.

One of the guests was engaged in the gentle and alluring amusement of criticising an absent friend.

"Well," he said, "he's the meanest, stingiest man I ever knew; in fact, I don't think there's another man in the world who is so mean—"

"Oh, I don't know," interrupted Naggsby; "that's a pretty tall order, you know. I think I know a stingier man. There's my father-in-law, for instance—"

This acted like a red flag on Mrs. Naggsby.

"Look here," she snapped, "you're always backbiting your father-in-law! I simply won't stand it!"

"Oh, pooh, pooh!" rejoined Naggsby. "He's my father-in-law, not yours. Just you wait until I say something about yours before you begin to talk!"

That was at eight o'clock, and at 11:30 they were still at it, and going stronger than ever.

Swift & Company

Year 1905 Sales.

The total distributive sales for 1905 exceeded

$200,000,000.

This total is realized from the sale of fresh meats (beef, mutton and pork), provisions, produce (poultry, butter and eggs), soaps, glues, oils, bones, fertilizers, feathers, casings, hides, wools, pelts and other by-products derived from cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry.

Margin of Profit.

The industry is operated on a margin of less than 2 cents to each dollar of sales. Swift & Co. do not sell at retail. Their entire output is sold at wholesale to many thousands of dealers in various parts of the world. There are hundreds of local slaughterers throughout the United States, who buy their live stock in competition with the packer doing an interstate and international business. Likewise the packer must sell in competition with the local slaughterers. There are no secret processes in the industry, no complicated and expensive factories, and as live stock can be purchased in almost every hamlet and city, and the preparation of meats is simple in the extreme, local slaughtering will long remain a factor in the production of fresh meats and provisions.

Economic Advantages.

The large packing houses will, however, always have these advantages: Locations at the chief live stock centers, with the opportunity to buy the best live stock; manufacturing in large quantities, at the minimum of expense; utilization of all waste material; refrigeration; mechanical appliances; highly efficient business management. These advantages are reflected in the quality of the packer's output, a quality that has reached its highest development in the products bearing the name and brand of "Swift."

Purchasing Live Stock.

The principal live stock centers are Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph, St. Paul and Fort Worth. The same methods of purchasing cattle, sheep and hogs prevail at all cities. At Chicago, which is the largest market, there are about two hundred and fifty buyers, representing packers, local slaughterers in various cities, and exporters. Of this number, less than a score are employed by Swift & Company.

The farmer ships his live stock to Chicago, consigns them to a commission firm at the Union Stock Yards, who sees that they are unloaded and put in pens. Then the buyers inspect them, make their offers to the commission dealer, who accepts or rejects as his judgment dictates. All buying must be finished at 3 o'clock each day, and the buyer must pay spot cash. If the commission man has no satisfactory offers, he can hold his stock over to the next day. He gets his commission from the farmer, and naturally strives to get the highest possible price for his client.

Wholesale Distributing Houses.

A wholesale distributing house is a giant refrigerator, but instead of shelves there are trolley rails, from which are suspended hooks to hang the carcasses. Some of the houses cost as much as a hundred thousand dollars to build and equip. As a rule they are of pressed brick, the insides being lined—floor, walls and ceiling—with highly polished hardwood. The floors are covered daily with fresh sawdust and all are kept spotlessly clean. There are over three hundred of these wholesale houses in various cities of the United States, and the public is always welcome to visit them.

Packing Plants.

All the Swift & Company plants are located at the great live stock markets, in the heart of the great agricultural sections, where can be purchased the finest grades of cattle, sheep and hogs. We have seven packing plants, employing at each from two to eight thousand persons.

The following gives the locations and sizes of the different plants.

	Buildings, Acres.	Floor Space, Acres.	Land, Acres.
Chicago	44½	87¾	47
Kansas City	7⅝	30	19½
Omaha	6	26	23
St. Louis	7¾	19⅞	31¾
St. Joseph	6½	25¼	19¼
St. Paul	5	12	16
Fort Worth	3	15	22

Employes.

The total number of persons employed in all the Swift packing plants and branch houses aggregate over 26,000 persons. Conditions for employes in the various manufacturing and operating departments is continually improving with the construction of new buildings and the installation of new and up-to-date equipment.

Sanitation and Hygiene.

The housewife makes no greater effort to keep her kitchen clean than we do to keep in sanitary and hygienic condition our abattoirs. They are thoroughly scrubbed at the close of each day's operations, and automatic appliances are used wherever possible in order to eliminate the personal handling of meats. Rigid rules governing these points are strictly enforced; laxity means dismissal.

Visitors Always Welcome.

No other industry in the world gives such a cordial welcome to visitors as Swift & Co. We keep open house the year around, and maintain a corps of specially trained guides, with special elevators and rest rooms. In one year we have entertained over a quarter of a million of men and women; in one day—Grand Army Day, 1901—we entertained 23,000. Among our visitors have been ambassadors from foreign governments, princes, noblemen and distinguished citizens from all lands and eminent folks from every State in the Union. We wish to familiarize the public with our methods, and the best way to do that is to let the public see for itself. We have no secret processes or methods in any department.

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon.

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon are more widely and favorably known than any other brand. Their popularity is due to the uniform quality and flavor of the meat, and to their fine appearance when received from the dealer. Each piece is branded on the rind, "Swift's Premium U. S. Inspected," and wrapped in cheesecloth and white parchment paper.

Look for the brand, "Swift's Premium," when buying hams and bacon.

Swift's Silver Leaf Lard

Is a strictly pure lard, kettle rendered, and put up in 3, 5 and 10-pound sealed pails. It is America's Standard Lard, and enjoys a high reputation and an enormous sale.

Swift's Soaps.

An interesting feature of a trip through the Chicago plant is a visit to the soap factory, one of the largest and most complete in this country. There we manufacture numerous toilet and laundry soaps, and washing powders.

Among which are:

Wool Soap, widely and favorably known; for toilet and bath, and washing fine fabrics.

Crown Princess Toilet Soap, highly perfumed.

Swift's Pride Soap, for laundry and household use.

Swift's Pride Washing Powder, unsurpassed for all cleaning purposes.

A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

"Speak for it!" she cried to doggie,
For she knew in her little heart,
That German Syrup, home's great treasure,
Could health and joy impart.

¶The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a hacking cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. ¶But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup.

¶We know by the experience of over thirty-five years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. 12

¶Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Dear Sirs,—December 25, 1901, was taken with what physicians pronounced MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM.

I had it bad. I took as I thought, every known remedy, paid out enough money anyhow. I was entirely helpless for nearly eighteen months; about that time saw your ad in The National Tribune; sent for a bottle, then sent for another, then another; and now I am out of the medicine business entirely. I give Crooker's Rheumatic Remedy the credit of curing me. I can heartly recommend it.
